

CAROUSEL PRESENTS...

Look Again - A Question of Perspective
Will Templeton
May 29th - August 01st 2018

The way you choose to view the world is the world in which you live.

It's not easy to make a holiday of the walk to the station, to take the time to appreciate the beauty in the things we consider normal, to really explore the repetitive sights of our daily lives; it's not always easy to really look, but it is possible...

Look Again invites you to consider the way in which you view the world that surrounds you. To start to notice how you can transform reality depending on your standpoint. When did you last really pay attention to the everyday?

When you take time, really look, you start to appreciate the magnitude of the beauty that constantly surrounds us. The beauty is in the detail but you'll only notice it when you look again.
