

Food Of Love

11am: 4th November 2023

OLIA HERCULES, JOE WOODHOUSE, ROBIN GILL, BRE GRAHAM

Joining Clare this weekend are culinary couple Olia Hercules and Joe Woodhouse; Robin Gill, one of London's most loveable restaurateurs, who also met his wife through food; and Bre Graham, author of Table for Two, a book dedicated to the magic of two people sharing a meal.

Together, they will explore the ever-present, ever-shifting role food and drink plays in romantic love, and why it matters.

Whether oysters are as romantic as billed; why even long-established couples are ritualistic about meals together; the significance of cooking for each other; why the act of cooking together brings some couples closer, and others to breaking point; and why someone's behaviour around food and the dinner table one of the earliest indicators of compatibility.
